Hail Storm Damage Extensive

Extensive damage was done by the hail storm which passed through a wide area of the district late Saturday afternoon.

Thousands of acres of grain were partly damaged in the Mossburn and Arrowwood districts, but in the Shoultz district the loss was very high, 100 percent over a large acreage. This included about 300 acres of irrigated crops belonging to Indians and white renters of Indian land. Milo and Majorville districts were also hit. Some crops north of the river on the reserve were partly damaged.

The storm came from the north west and appeared like a funnel. The wind was terrific and aside from the hail did considerable damage.

The town was fortunate in being out of the cyclone which could be seen as it swept to the east several miles south of town. A great wall of dark grey cloud several thousand feet high, headed the storm and seemed to float a short distance above the ground. This slight which is rarely seen could be seen for some ten minutes when it was blown off by a deluge of rain which descended on the town.

THE OTTAWA LETTER

BY F. W. GERSHAW, M.P.

Delegates from 41 nations, including Canada, recently gathered at Philadelphia with one living aim of raising the standard of living for all members of every community.

They decided that war against poverty, unemployment and mal-adjustment must be carried on with unrelenting vigor. That all human beings could pursue their material well being and spiritual development in conditions of freedom and dignity with economic security and equal opportunity.

What has Canada done towards realizing these aims? What has it done in the following examples of recent legislation.

A nutritional Council has been advising people on diet. What balanced meals in all military camps and industries have been arranged. The council urges greater use of native butter, eggs, fruits, vegetables etc.

The provisions for the members of the fighting forces and their dependents are the best in the world.

The unemployment insurance act passed two years ago now has a first of millions. A man getting $20 a week pays 30c a week. After five years, if unemployed, he can get $10-20 a week, if single, and $12 per week if married for 52 weeks. The government pays the fees for soldiers if they qualify.

Rehabilitation plans are ready so that tenders can be called at once for irrigation schemes, roads and dwellings to provide employment and produce useful assets.

Foreign trade normally provides 30 per cent of our national income. It supports every part of our economy. The lack of it was the chief cause of the great depression. Earnest efforts are being made by Canada to develop trade. An export council is active. Mutual aid and U.N.R.R.A. gifts are mostly in the form of food products. We hope world people will like these products and continue their use so that our foreign markets will be available.

Subsidies and bonuses are given on bacon, wheat, cattle marketing and so on for such things as feed transportation, crop failures.

Inflation has been controlled and short term loans arranged for farm implements and improvements.

Tourists brought 140 million dollars to Canada in 1939 and efforts are being made to increase this source of markets for our products. Stability of prices is being arranged for two years contracts on beef, pork and cheese sales. Floor prices on agricultural products and family allowances are being studied. All duties on farm implements including the 10 percent exchange tax are removed.

Research is continuing to find new uses for farm products. Dehydrated food is placed in the knapsack of every airman and sailor for emergency food.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS OF THE TOWN AND DISTRICT

left last week to spend their holidays in Drumheller and Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Webb and children Donald Farquharson, R.C.A.P., now stationed at Lethbridge spent the weekend in town visiting their parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Farquharson.

Dr. McIntyre has returned from his fishing trip in British Columbia. He states he had splendid time and thoroughly enjoyed his holiday catching some good sized fish.

Mrs. D. Henderson and children of Champion are visiting Mrs. Henderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Cook.

Over two inches of rain fell on town Saturday night and Sunday. The gardeners are bemoaning the fact that their corn has fallen over and is laying almost flat on the ground. The optimist says the corn will straighten up itself in due time.

Thursday word was received by relatives of Clarence Woods that he was missing after being in action on July 1. A couple of days later another message was received stating he had returned safe and sound and was on duty with his unit. His wife and children had been in town visiting relatives for the past couple of weeks returned to her home at the weekend day after Clarence was reported missing.

C.C.F. VERY CARELESS

By R. J. Deachman
The C.C.F. is very careless—very careless indeed! On the other hand it is very bold, terribly bold. It locates the strongest point of the enemy and attacks at that point. It realizes, very clearly, the amazing improvement in health conditions in Canada during the last few years and especially in Alberta and against the facts it directs its efforts.

A recent advertisement of the C. C. F. carries the picture of a healthy looking baby boy. "It's a boy!" reads the caption. Then it warns up to the attack: "What chance has he now? Canada's maternal death rate is highest of 22 leading countries. Give him a chance under the C.C.F. Social medical men, free medicine, etc., etc."

The claims are false, the facts dispute it. The C.C.F. can tell its story for, since the war, the figures of maternity death rates are not available. They would be useless if they were. In the countries under the impact of war they would be abnormally high but let us see what has happened in Canada and in Alberta in the last few years—all figures in this article are from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

held on Friday Aug. 11th at 8.30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Crouzet, Miss Phyllis Crouzet and Mrs. G. H. Watts of Kelowna, B.C. have spent the past couple of weeks the guests of Miss Gladys Ferguson.

HARVEST LABOR

Plans to close with the harvest labor problem were discussed in Edmonton last week when T. B. Pleckergill, Assistant Assistant Director, National Selective Service, Ottawa met the Alberta Dominion-Provincial farm labor committee.

The importance of utilizing all local help to the greatest possible extent was emphasized. District agriculturalists will again direct the program in their respective districts and again as in 1943 they will be assisted by local labor representatives and farm and victory committees.

An appeal will be made to local town organizations to give all possible assistance to the farmers.

Mr. Pleckergill outlined the plans to be made to bring harvesters from the east and he discussed the possibility of securing help from the armed services. The committee is investigating the possibility of using more Indian labor than has been utilized in the past and an intensive campaign to recruit men from short crop areas for work in other districts will be undertaken.

Since the crop in Alberta is on the whole larger than last year and the general man power situation is more acute the problem of taking off the 1944 crop is likely to be one of major concern. All available sources of labor must be combed if an adequate labor force is to be secured.

Here is a table showing the maternal death rate in Canada, as a whole, as well as in the Province of Alberta:

Year	Canada	Alberta
1931-35	75	60
1936-40	64	53
1941	59	48
1942	54	38

There is the record of the Dominion of Canada as a whole, and of the Province of Alberta. The lowest recorded figures on infantile death so far as I can locate, were in Iceland and New Zealand. There were 27 and 29 per 1000 births. Alberta would go into the next group, Sweden, Norway, Switzerland with 37 and 38.

Remember these countries do not face the difficulties which are presented in Alberta. They are of one common race or as in Switzerland of one common standard of education, whereas in Alberta there are many racial groups and those who migrated to Canada, when they were mature carry with them the habits and ideas of their country of origin. Time changes their ideas, but it takes time.

I have dealt here mainly with the maternal death rate and the infantile death rate. So far as the general health is concerned this statement with the Canada Year Book for 1943 is important.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Dude Sheriff

By TOM DOOSON

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Old Sheriff Hearty was hopping mad. Outside, the mid-morning sun was boosting the temperature with its steady scorching smiles, but he didn't notice it; the redness of his broad leather face was caused by a different fire—blazing righteous indignation. He flung the newspaper down and plumped into an office chair. From the floor the galling article leaped up at him. "With the conversion of the Circle Ranch into a dude farm," it said, "Smokehouse became primarily a dude town instead of a cow town. As such it is fitting that certain changes be made. Among the first in conformity should be the sheriff. It would increase the western atmosphere of the town considerably if he should replace his single shoulder-shouldered gun with a two-handled six-gun, carried in fancy leatherwork belts; he could then herd the incoming visitors more effectively. An appropriate welcome speech could be worked out, possibly including an amusing anecdote of his experience in the 'Old West.' Any other improvement should be..."

"Danged meddling fools!" muttered Hearty. "Reckon they'd like me to talk about the time I shot an ear off Spider Lopez's head and sent him, as ornery as coyotes as ever rode the Panhandle, away to the States for twenty years, crying and swearing revenge with every breath he took. Only that wouldn't be good enough for them," he snorted. "They'd want me to shoot off both his ears!"

Abruptly he stopped the paper from the floor and studied one of the tell that smart alecky editor a thing or two. Just outside the door he almost bumped into his paper.

"Good morning, Old-Timer," greeted the youngster, and added, "That's your new name. Old-Timer! Picture-tuneque hey?"

"Picture-tune be hanged," the old man exploded. "Look here, you..." "Uh-huh," the newspaper man interrupted. "I know just what you're going to say. You like the write-up in the paper. And the reason you like it is because we both want to see you re-elected sheriff when your term's up. Like to put my paper behind you. And I think you'd better, because I know you realize there's no real deal around here; no more cattle ranches for this county, only dude farms. Of course the dude ranchers are going to want you to continue as sheriff just as long as you enter into the new spirit of things."

"But..."

"Let's stop back into your office; I've brought along some things for you to try 'em."

When the newsmen left half an hour later the sheriff sank once again into his comfortable armchair. A brace of shiny new pearl-handled pistols decorated his ample midriff, and his huge lips puckered out, like those of a snorting schoolboy as he contemplated the railroad timetable before him.

When the first train of the afternoon rolled to a stop beside the tiny station platform he and his star deputy were on hand to greet it. Disembarking were as odd an assortment of loafers as the county had ever seen. Every stage of cowboy dress was represented, from expensive Hollywood versions to levis and work shirts. One swarthy fellow with little old man with long black hair even sported a beret.

"Fellow westerners," the sheriff began uneasily, "I am sheriff of Smokehouse, welcome you to one of the best of the towns of the 'Old West.' We have been fumbled with a piece of paper in his hand..." we have here perhaps one of the most picturesque heritages of the entire cattle country.

The little dried-up fellow in the beret was watching him closely now. Probably he was a professor of some kind—maybe a foreigner. There are nine guns you have there, Sheriff; may I see one?" he asked.

"Why certainly, partner," the sheriff's good-natured voice boomed. "That gun is mighty like the one I use to settle my account with you." The words hissed from the little man's thin lips. The sheriff's startled gaze flashed up, and right into the muzzle of his own gun!

"Yes, it is, I, Lopez," continued the other. "For twenty years I've waited for this day. Quick, your other gun, drop it on the platform!" The sheriff moved forward. Awkwardly the little Mexican jerked up the gun. The crowd flinched backward. It was the break the old lawman wanted. Instantly, like the snapping steel of a landlubber rattler, his tanned hand flicked forward. Smashed down on Lopez's gun hand.

The pearl-handled weapon spun, end over end, to land a dozen feet away. Quickly Hearty followed up. A heavy blow cracked the handle off his own gun, but the deputy was upon him, clamping handcuffs to his wrists.

After the deputy had taken Lopez away the crowd calmed down and boarded their ranch-bound bus. The sheriff finished his welcome speech, and then he captured when Spider Lopez twenty years ago. I was forced to shoot off both his ears!"

He headed back for the jail, his old cheeks aglow with the satisfaction of a job well done. "Twenty years in that place must have made Lopez a mite str-simplic," he mumbled. "Just imagine him thinking I'd go and muss up their pretty new pearl-handled guns by putting bullets in 'em!"

German Naval Officer Says Hitler's

Navy Has Been Sunk

Rear-Admiral Richard Gadow, retired German naval officer who is described as the principal spokesman for Hitler's navy, has effectively answered a question as to the whereabouts of his country's U-boats and heavy warships.

"The submarine arm was effectively broken," he said, "when technical defenses of the enemy put an end to our achievements." The admiral did not refer particularly to what had happened to the surface force, but perhaps Germany never counted very much on them anyway.

So now that the German navy has been effectively disposed of, it is high time that a retired air marshal, with or without Hermann Goering's blessing, should tell us what has become of the Luftwaffe.—Montreal Gazette.

Sacrificed His Life

Indian Officer Saved Lives Of

Comrades By Heroic Act

An Indian officer who flung himself on a mine that was about to explode in order to save the lives of six comrades is the first Indian to win the George Cross.

Subedar Subramanian, of the Madras Sappers and Miners, was in charge of a mine clearing company which had been ordered to search for a missing Jemadar who was believed to have walked into a mine-field near Miraj, Italy. Subramanian was operating the mine detector when a small explosion occurred. Realizing that someone had trodden on an anti-personnel mine, and that within four seconds the canister would be blown into the air and explode, he rushed without the slightest hesitation towards the mine and flung himself on the top of it, at the same time trying to knock his comrades away from the force of the explosion. A large neutralized by the subedar's body and six lives were saved as a result. The subedar was killed.

Subedar Subramanian has now been awarded the George Cross posthumously for "conspicuous gallantry in performing hazardous work in a very brave manner." He had already been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal in North Africa in 1943.—Indian Information Office.

Has Been Real Home

Beaver Club In London Means Much

To Canadian Soldiers

The big, tough Canadian soldier who may have given his mother a good many headaches in his time, does a lot of thinking about that mother when he is in the barracks. There, thousands of miles away from home, The Beaver Club in London, just off Piccadilly, can prove that.

Last year before Mother's Day, Canadian servicemen sent more than $11,000 worth of cables home, and that's a lot of love and good wishes at reduced cable rates. This Christmas they spent more than $13,000 for cable home, most of them addressed to mothers.

There's something about the Beaver club that sets men thinking about home. The lounges are big and friendly and the men usually meet someone from their own home town. In the reading room there are newspapers from more than 80 Canadian towns and cities and no one who hasn't been overseas can know what a hometown paper means.

When the club celebrated its anniversary of its founding, the King and Queen came to call and to say that they knew what the big cheerful centre has meant to men away from home, since it opened its door Feb. 15, 1940. The institution, partially financed by Canadian Y.M.C.A., is supported and engineered by a board of Canadian directors in London.

Food For Britain

New Canadian Contribution To

Supplies Of United Kingdom

Has Been Announced

An immense new Canadian contribution to the food supplies of the United Kingdom was announced by Agriculture Minister Gardiner, who said Canada would ship a minimum 100,000,000 pounds of beef in 1944 and 1945 and as much additional supplies as were surplus in the dominion.

Already Canada is supplying the United Kingdom with food under two-year lagoon, cheese and egg contracts. Mr. Gardiner estimated the beef shipments—which will be the equivalent of 250,000 cattle—would have a total value of $30,000,000. Prices established under the contract will mean a constant flow throughout the year for producers of cattle.

Red and blue brand beef will be bought for export to an agreed quantity by the Canadian meat board on the basis of 25 cents below their respective ceilings as established for sales throughout Canada under price board regulations. If further supplies are offered, they will be bought at the rate of 50 cents below the ceiling.

Lower quality beef will be bought at established rates at points further under the ceiling.

The Minister said $3,000,000 pounds of beef already have been shipped under the agreement, although the contract has just been signed. Shipments made since late last fall are being counted in the figures.

He said that the export shipments would not be sufficient to require a resumption of meat rationing in the dominion. Canada now has 10,000,000 cattle, and former shipments to the United States on the basis of about 200,000 head annually were suspended in 1942.

Top shipments of cattle to the United Kingdom in pre-war years amounted to about 400,000 head.

Plant in Montreal Is Now Making

the World's Best

The first building to be erected in the Dominion for the specific purpose of producing penicillin will be in full scale operation in the near future, officials announced in Montreal.

The plant, government owned but managed by Ayerst, McKenna and Harrison, Ltd., already is turning out the "wonder drug" but officials said it will not be operating at full production capacity for awhile, when a group of laboratories being erected on the outskirts of the city are fully completed.

ground Were Corsican Bandits

The Maquis, the French underground fighting organization which is causing the Germans so much trouble in southern France took its name from the appellation bestowed upon Corsican bandits in Napoleon's time. The word (pronounced mac-kee) means underground, particularly the thick brushwood that grows in Corsica and that furnished the bandits good hiding places.

Among the leaders of the Maquis are high officers of the French Army who refused to bow to Nazi domination as relayed through Petain's Vichy government.—New York Herald Tribune.

Tragedy Of Germany

Smiles And Laughter Regarded As

Signs Of Weakness

In a recent article, the German-born author, Emil Ludwig, for many years exile from Nazi land, has said this illuminating comment: "If I were asked for a slogan for the victorious armies as they enter Berlin, it would be: 'Don't smile!' The victor is a lord—a lord who does not smile, but commands. A smiling man never has a following in Germany."

Therein lies the tragedy of Germany. In Germany, trained and nurtured on a doctrine of "blood and iron," fanatically devoted to the grim, cruel business of war, smiles and laughter are regarded as signs of weakness—softness of heart and head!

Prime Minister Churchill has aptly described the Germans. "They are," he said, "either at your throat or at your feet." Swallowing bullets and crying and whining in defeat.

Regarding themselves as the master race and as "lords to command all others," they have long stifled all humor and healthy laughter. In a country more concerned with living than in looting and killing their neighbors, a motley group of upstarts like Hitler and his gang would have been ridiculed of contempt once long before they had a chance to come to power.—Halifax Herald.
